Liberv vel Reguli!

Ian Haig

Liberv vel Reguli! involves a raw, crude animation aesthetic loosely based around the theme of devil possession, Satanism, and exorcism. In particular he explores the idea of 'possessed media'; of technologies being a conduit of an otherworldly, paranormal entity.

About the artist

Ian Haig explores the strangeness of everyday reality negotiated through subject matter that is at times perverse and provocative.

Previous exhibitions include; the Australian Centre for Contemporary Art, The Experimental Art Foundation, Adelaide, The Museum of Modern Art, New York, Artec Biennale - Nagoya, Japan, Pompidou Centre, Paris, Art Museum of China, Beijing and The European Media Arts Festival, Osnabruck, Germany.

Mobile Journeys

Mobile Journeys is a national arts initiative dedicated to exploring the creative potential of mobile devices and to fostering the development of Australian mobile culture.
