Sock Puppet Karaoke

Mark Simpson

Sixty40 went out and collected the conversations of drunk socks in pubs. Uncovering interesting parallels with the weekend experiences of many average Sydney-siders, Vox Sox presents a bemusing and amusing window into a foggy and rarely recalled world. These 2 short vignettes reflect the honest incoherence of the average, drinking sock.

About the artist

Sixty40 is a design and animation partnership that develops work for TV including animation and broadcast design. Vox Sox is it's second short film. Sixty40 has been operating for 4 years, is run by crafts-people who live and breathe their work and sweat fun by the bucket.
